PANTAGES' CASE IN RECESS TILL MONDAY MORNING

Defense Attorneys Were Unable To Shake Story Told By Dancer

BY GEORGE R. BEALE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Los Angeles, Oct. 5.—(UP)—The case of the People vs. Alexander Pantages stood adjourned today but the pitiful story of 17-year-old Euclid Pringle, who contends the millionaire theatrical magnate assaulted her, still echoed in the ears of jurors and spectators.

Clad in a flaming red dress instead of the quiet blue she has affected since the beginning of the trial, Miss Pringle will return to the witness stand Monday to permit Pantages' attorneys, who are seeking to save him from a one to 50 year sentence in San Quentin, to resume their efforts to break down her accusations.

Prospect of a grand jury investigation of alleged tampering with witnesses in the case was subordinated in interest to the slim schoolgirl's testimony, which several times during yesterday's session had members of the jury in tears.

Using soft answers to turn away wrathful defense questions, the University of California co-ed who wanted to become a great actress spent six hours on the witness stand yesterday telling and retelling the story which may convict Pantages of assault on a minor.

Her Story Unchanged

For three of those hours she was subjected to a merciless cross-examination by Jerry Giesler, who sought by innuendo, implication and almost direct charge to indicate she was a pawn in an attempt to extort from the theater magnate some of his reputed $50,000,000.

But her story stood unchanged. She broke down frequently, became almost hysterical, but clung to her declaration that Pantages forcibly assaulted her in his private office August 9.

Even when in tears she was polite always, answering "No, Sir," and "Yes, Sir." She never forgot the "Sir."

She appeared about to break down when she recited the events she said took place in Pantages' conference room.

She told in every detail the manner of the assault. She sobbed throughout the recital—and so did two members of the jury.

Pantages' promise of stage work brought her to his office, she said.

The narration was unprintable at many points.

Near Collapse

She seemed about to break again when the defense insisted that she put on the red dress in which she went to Pantages' office.

One of the highlights of the afternoon was the meeting between Pantages, one time gold digger and bartender in the Klondike, and Kate Rockwell, formerly queen of one of Dawson City's dance halls.

After long friendship, the pair parted bitterly years ago.

Pantages, walking out of the courtroom at a recess, went over to Kate Rockwell.

"Hello, Kate," he said.

"How are you, Alex?" she answered. He talked to her in an undertone as she wiped away the tears.

"Alex speaking to me that way just bowed me over," she told newspapermen later.

Kate Rockwell was summoned as a witness against Pantages.

LINDBERGH TO SPEND FOUR DAYS EXPLORING ANCIENT MAYA CITIES FROM PLANE

Asks Reduction Of Alimony That She Can Help ExHusband

Belize, British Honduras, Oct. 5.—(UP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh rested here today, preparatory to spending four days in an aerial search for ancient Maya cities hidden away in the jungles which land parties of scientists have been unable to find.

Investigators for eight agencies were treading the blood-caked and blood-spattered ruins of the state penitentiary, scene of one of the worst prison riots in modern times, authorities sought today to discover how it could have happened.

Investigations on Maya ruins at Chichen Itza, Yucatan, and other places indicate that the Mayas originally founded a civilization to the south of Yucatan, but that they migrated northward about 500 A. D.

Lindbergh will try to spot the old Maya cities, take their compass bearings and plot them on a map so land parties may be enabled to find them quickly. He also will take photographs. He hopes to find and trace broad highways known to have connected the principal Maya cities.

The Colonels interest in archaeology dates back more than a year, when he located an abandoned Maya city in Yucatan while flying to Cuba. He was struck by the beauty of the buildings, and returned to the spot flying over it several times.

NARCISSUS

NARCISSUS! Beautiful white narcissus!"

Morning and evening as I go by

I hear the man at the corner cry:

"Narcissus! Beautiful white

narcissus!"

A peck of March dust blows over his basket,

The papery blossoms are nipped and dry

As well throw money away as buy

Pavement stuff that is drooping already.

This street is used by practical people,

They jostle onward, and so do I.

But if by chance a poet went by

I think he might stop, and give the man sixpence—

Not for the flowers; for the dream's sake merely,

For the clear stream and the far sky,

And beauty lingering in the cry—

"Narcissus! Beautiful white Narcissus!"

—Sylvia Townsend Warner, in "Time

Importuned."

Thirty-sixth Annual Convention Lee Co. W. C. T. U. in Dixon

Strock, Dixon.
Scientific Temp. Instruction and Narcotics—Callie B. Morgan, Dixon.
Motion Pictures—Mrs. Ella Stark, Dixon.

Very satisfactory reports were given by Amboy, Franklin Grove and Dixon Unions.

Mrs. Geo. Ives, Franklin Grove, gave a reading "When the Frost is on the Pumpkin," returning with the encore "The Great Man."

The Memorial service was conducted by Mrs. Maud Hobbs for Dixon Union and Mrs. Fall of Amboy Union, each having lost two members by death.

Mrs. Archie Klein gave a pleasing memorial solo "When You Come to the End of the Road," pianist Mrs. Mary Strock.

George C. Dixon who is a candidate for State Senator from the 35th senatorial district gave the women an instructive message.

Mrs. Wright in her address, said in part: "Education must help to win the day in W. C. T. U. work. It was the home that suffered most when the liquor traffic had its day. Scientific Temperance Instruction and Narcotic Dept. is one of the most important departments we have. We need to make the impression on our schools. The W. C. T. U. has a motion picture department which upholds the eighteenth amendment.

In the response by Miss Mabel Kinney, she said, "There should be no one here, with any pessimism in her heart. We have a right to be thankful for progress that has been made."

"Faith of our Fathers," was sung in unison.

Rev. W. W. Marshall gave a short address. In part he said, "What does the name Woman's Christian Temperance Union imply? Christian Temperance is the foundation. We have proven that prohibition is more than an experiment. The W. C. T. U. deserves great credit for carrying the standard high, and have never given up the fight. There's no use trying to play with the devil. That's what we do when we start to play with King Alcohol. This country is the most prosperous on the face of the globe." Mr. Marshall gave a fitting tribute to the Stars and Stripes.

Mrs. S. B. Wright, State Organizer of Aurora, gave the main address. Her talk was full of instructive and constructive thought. A few which are apended.

"We are in a crisis, we are up against a great task. There are two organizations of women against prohibition, but their number is small compared with the list of the W. C. T. U. new members which the last year was 50,000. Mrs. Ella Boole said to the women opposed to prohibition, "Do your worst, and we will do our best." If I could influence you to start organized work among young people, it would pay. Get your pledge cards and present them to the young, get them in the churches. The W. C. T. U. is the church work against every form of evil, and have faith in the word of God, that His will will prevail. Now friends, we must save our young people. The problem of narcotics here is a greater problem than China had with opium. We have a wonderful program before us. The National organization urges that we spread information by distributing leaflets and literature. In Indianapolis, at the unveiling of the statue of Frances Willard, there were 5,000 school children in the parade."

"Lead On O King Eternal" was sung in unison.

Mrs. Alice Missman offered the noontide prayer.

At 1 P. M. an executive meeting was held. The president appointing directors of the departments as follows:

Child Welfare—Miss Carrie Swartz, Dixon.

Christian Citizenship—Mrs. Mary Schmahl, Amboy.

Evangelistic—Mrs. Anna Klein, Amboy.

Flower Mission—Mrs. Matilda Holly, Franklin Grove.

Loyal Temp. Legion—Mrs. Hettie Dawson, Dixon.

Publicity—Mrs. Merion Maben, Dixon.

Temp. & Missions—Mrs. Ruby Reigle, Franklin Grove.

Young People's Branch—Mrs. Mary

"Health and Safety." He warned parents not to send children to school if they have sore throat or other symptoms which are usually thought to indicate only a common cold for these are often the beginnings of measles, diphtheria is quite prevalent in Illinois. Every child is susceptible, but it is a preventable disease.

Smallpox usually occurs in epidemic form about once in ten years, because of a new generation of children who have not been vaccinated.

Tetanus or lock-jaw is caused by bacteria which live especially in cultivated soil and can be prevented by the use of anti-tetanus serum. Typhoid is usually caused by an impure water supply.

Dr. Reavey then gave interesting data in regard to accidents. There were more people killed in Illinois in accidents in seven years than the total number of Illinois men who were killed in the World War.

There were 102 deaths from burns, 131 from taking wrong medicines, 383 from drowning, 761 from falls in Illinois alone in one year. Auto accidents cost the lives of 1745 people in Illinois last year.

Dr. Reavey then gave interesting data in regard to accidents. There were more people killed in Illinois in accidents in seven years than the total number of Illinois men who were killed in the World War.

The make-up of Turkish women formerly consisted only in darkening the eyelids with kohl and coloring the fingers with henna, both of which practices were of good report in the Moslem world, as they were believed to have been indulged in by the Prophet Mohammed himself.

A leading author of the new Turkish literature, Djelal Noury Bey, says in the semi-official press:

"World history, which has registered since 1910 the great war, the Bolshevik revolution, and Spanish influenza, must register also the revolution of beauty. Our century has placed a crown on that which is false. Falsity, rouge, have vanquished natural beauty."

"Twenty years ago these made-up women of ours would have been arrested by the first Turkish policeman who saw them."

Mrs. Hardesty reported carrying greetings from the War Mothers to the Daughters of Union Veterans and the G. A. R. ladies at their conventions. The V. F. W. veterans invited the War Mothers to take part in the dedication of the tablet given them by the Ort family, this to take place Armistice day.

There being a great deal of business the report of the delegates to the National Convention will be given at an all day meeting in two weeks at the Watts and Bunnell cottage.

Mrs. Cora Ethridge was received into the order, also Mrs. Effie Alshouse, sister of Mrs. Strub, Mrs. S. P. Young and Mrs. John Strub asked the mothers to dedicate trees in their yards.

A report of clothing sent to a World War Veteran in Colorado was given.

The Mothers thanked all who have given them moss covered stone and all other stones which with their tree were hauled to the Dixon Garage at Hines hospital.

The order is busy with their bazaar work and any who have old silk or cotton that can be used at the order.

THE MYSTERY REMAINS.

Professor C. Judson Herrick of the University of Chicago believes that man is simply a machine that thinks.

After spending years in the study of neurology, Dr. Herrick has concluded that all life—physical, mental and spiritual—is simply a mechanistic process. He has just written a book setting forth his views, and in it he says:

"Mental processes are biological functions of the body in general and of the brain in particular, in just the same sense that circulation of the blood is a function of the heart, or breathing is a function of the lungs. A thought is a manufactured product as truly as a pair of shoes."

The present age is distinguished from all former ages by a number of things; but chiefly, it would seem, it is set apart by the fact that never until now have men been able to conceive of themselves as soulless bits of machinery.

Probably this is only natural. We live in an era that moves by machinery. We are as far removed from the social and economic conditions of a century ago as we are from the builders of the pyramids. It is not surprising that some men should come to look upon human beings themselves as mere glorified bits of mechanism.

It is a mistake, however, to think that one solves any problems by adopting such theory.

In the old days the contemplative man felt that he had an immortal soul, that he was kin to the majestic spirit of the universe itself, that he was superior to time and change and death; and he knew, therefore, that he was a partaker in a tremendous mystery, and this knowledge gave him a sense of dignity, a feeling of exaltation, a consciousness of nobility.

Today he simply says, "I am a machine. I breathe in clear air and eat certain meats and fruits and vegetables and undergo certain experiences, and out of them I create the finished products of thought and action."

Thus he has an entirely new slant on the universe and his place in it.

But—and this is what is worth noticing—the mystery remains as great as before.

A machine? Very possibly. But what a marvelous one! A machine that can lift itself by its own bootstraps; a machine that can create beauty so compelling and haunting that the beholder, involuntarily, is persuaded of his own immortality; a machine that can be heroic, can suffer hardships for a cause, can sacrifice itself for the sake of other machines—what kind of machine is this, anyway?

The mechanistic explanation may be a very good one. The facts of physiology may support Professor Herrick's theory right up to the hilt. But the mystery is still there, as tremendous as ever. No theory can dispel it. And you may make of it what you please.

TO SERVE YOURSELF—

Solomon Levitan, state treasurer of Wisconsin, recently gave some advice to a group of young bank employees in Milwaukee that might well be passed on to all young men who are just beginning their business careers.

"You cannot do everything your desires indicate," Mr. Levitan told the future bank presidents. "Your promotion depends on your habits, your courteous treatments of customers, your efficiency and above all upon your honesty. Success in banking means self-denial and self-control. You learn that the best interest of your employer are your interests, and it is your duty to protect them. When you give your best service to the bank and to its customers, you are serving yourself best."

We suggest that that paragraph is worth the attention of every young man, whether he be working in a bank or in a factory.

CHILDREN'S TEETH.

A bulletin from the New York Health Department points out the importance of caring for the teeth of young children.

Too often, it says, parents do not see to it that young children are periodically examined and treated by dentists, since the children's milk teeth, so-called, will eventually fall out anyway.

However, the bulletin points out that many infections in milk teeth may do serious harm to the permanent teeth which come in later. In addition, an infected tooth, even if it be only a milk tooth, can have a bad effect on the child's system.

The child, as well as the grown persons, should make the dentist's acquaintance.

Fire Prevention Day ought to be observed at least by enrolling the boss.

Probably that dog that won the prize recently for having the most fleas started from scratch.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN PICTURES BY KNICK

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The wooden shoes sailed right along and Scouty thought, my, but they're strong. I'm mighty glad I have them. They are almost like a boat. They're holding me erect real nice, although I almost tipped twice. 'Tis well that they are wooden. That's the reason why they float.

(The Tinymites take another ride in the next story.)

All of a sudden came a puff of wind and then the stream grew choppy and it almost spoiled the trip. Poor Scouty had to balance well. He figured he could never tell just when a wave might slap him and then make him take a dip.

Thought he, I'd rather keep real dry. The sun is sinking from the sky and if I'm soaked there'll be no way to quickly dry my clothes. If I can just stay on my feet I'll get real pleasure from this treat. I wonder, will I find the bunch? I hope so, goodness knows.

Then far away he heard a shout, "Hey, Scouty, be a real good scout and come back here and join us. We are waiting patiently. We all have dropped down from the sky and you will find us bye and bye." "Gee, that's the bunch," weet Scouty cried. "They're calling out to me."

He then said, "Shoes, please pick up speed 'cause that's the very thing I need to take me to the Tinymites. They're not so far from here." This was a very happy bunch, 'cause in an hour he found the bunch. As they came together again and on July 30 arrived at La Guanaja, the first place in

WOMEN EARNING FAME IN FIELDS OF EXPLORATION

Society of Geographers Has Members Tramping Every Continent

By HARRY W. FRANTZ
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington —(UP)— The old adage that "Woman's place is in the home!" has been discarded by women geographers of the twentieth century, who believe that their "place" also may be under the Northern Lights, in the Antarctic Barrier, or in the heart of Malayan jungle.

The Society of Women Geographers, organized in 1925 by Harriet Chalmers Adams to establish a medium of contact between women of the United States and other countries engaged in geographical work and allied sciences, has just published its first general report showing world-wide explorations by women.

The five continents come within the scope of the women geographers and the adventures chronicled range from tiger-hunting in Sumatra to mummy-hunting in Egypt. Peck, with two Swiss guides, is said to have reached the highest point on this hemisphere ever attained by North or South American.

Crew Rescued From Swedish Ship Aground Off Carolina

Fast on the rocks off Kill Devil Hill, N. C., the new Swedish steamer Carl Gerhard is pictured above after its crew had been brought to safety through a treacherous surf in a thrilling rescue by coast guardmen. Beside the Swedish ship at the right, is the wreckage of the steamer Paraguay, wrecked two years ago at this point where many other vessels have gone aground. With one side stove in and the deck buckled, the Carl Gerhard is to be abandoned at the mercy of the waves.

American geography and affairs, has been honored by the Lima Geographic Society which gave the name of "Cumbre Anna Peck" to the north pinnacle of Mount Huascaran. Miss Peck, with two Swiss guides, is said to have reached the highest point on this hemisphere ever attained by North or South American.

CUBS WILL WIND UP SCHEDULE AT HOME TOMORROW

Then Team and Athletics Will Get Ready For October Classic

Chicago, Oct. 5—(AP)—There was virtually nothing to worry about at Wrigley Field until next Tuesday at 1:30 P. M. when worrying will start in earnest.

Neither Joe McCarthy, on the threshold of his first world series as manager of the Chicago Cubs, nor Connie Mack, to whom world series are old stories, has viewed with alarm the approaching test. Each has indicated confidence in his ball club and respect for his adversary.

The Cubs had the matter of finishing their National League schedule still to consider, a game today at Cincinnati and the series finale at Wrigley Field tomorrow against the Pittsburgh Pirates. Neither contest was causing McCarthy to hold his breath, and yet the Sabbath game had an element of human interest in that the Cubs' pitcher is to be Henry Gramp, getting his first start with the Cubs after having been on the club for three years.

Gramp to Pitch

Gramp's duties on the Cubs' staff consist of giving the team batting practice during the season. When McCarthy two days ago in Cincinnati told Chicago baseball writers they could choose the pitcher for the final game, they voted to a man for Gramp, so Gramp it will be.

The playing field were the first two games of the October classic will be played in ready. Its seating capacity of about 40,000 has been augmented by construction of extra bleachers that rise above the sidewalks outside the park.

The Cubs, in addition to their Sunday's game, will have a workout on Monday. The Athletics on the other hand have indicated they will not try out the field until the day of the game.

LAY IN HOT-DOGS By DALE HARRISON

Associated Press Staff Writer

Chicago, Oct. 5—(AP)—If all the hot dogs to be eaten during the world series at Wrigley Field were linked together they would make a chain of sausage from Pinconning, Mich., to Gauley Bridge, West Virginia, via Michigan Central to Toledo, and thence onward by divers other roads.

These estimates are approximate. Accuracy in such cases is impossible. The weather will have much to do with it. If the games should go extra innings the chain might even reach as far as Atlanta, Ga.

Demand for puppy pastry will be greater if the weather be overcast than if it be shirt sleeve. The dog-in-bun addict is a big problem for dietitians at any season. In the autumn however, he goes entirely out of bounds.

Advance statistics on pop are still more vague. If all the pop that will be drunk were dumped into Lake Michigan at game time it might or might not make the perch turn a delicate salmon color. Beyond that there is little reliable preliminary information.

A painstaking canvass among pop-vendors at the park, conducted at great personal risk, failed to discover anyone who cared to venture even a wild guess as to the possible pop consumption.

It is somewhat easier to predict how many sacks of peanuts will be Fletcherized. If the appetite for this roasted delicacy holds up to previous series, nine out of every ten customers will be sitting in a mess of shucks before the game is half over. There is an old Chinese saying

What Averages Of Big Leagues Show at Week End

IN NATIONAL LEAGUE

New York, Oct. 5—(AP)—With the season all but finished, Frank O'Doul has the batting championship of the National League virtually clinched. Averages issued today and including games of Wednesday showed O'Doul with an average of .396 against .384 for Babe Herman of Brooklyn and .381 for Rogers Hornsby, the Chicago siege gun. That meant that unless O'Doul should show a marked decline in his last three games, Herman and Hornsby could hardly catch him even by hitting safely upon each of their remaining visits to the plate.

The chances for Hornsby to overhaul Herman in the race for second place were much brighter. Other leading regulars in the Wednesday averages were: Terry, New York, .374; Stephenson, Chicago, .368; Klein, Philadelphia, and Traynor, Pittsburgh, .359; Cuyler, Chicago, .356; Hendrick, Brooklyn, .352 and L. Waner, Pittsburgh, .350.

O'Doul not only led in batting, but also topped the field in total hits with .248 and apparently was destined to surpass Hornsby's National League record of .250, set in 1922. George Sisler's mark of .257, made in 1920, seemed safe, however, against the drive of the Philadelphia slugger.

Hornsby led in runs scored with 153 and Hack Wilson, also of Chicago, set the pace in runs batted in with 152. Frederick of Brooklyn was out in front with 53 doubles and Lloyd Waner, with 19 triples. Hazen Cuyler had stolen 40 bases to lead in this specialty.

Chuck Klein and Melvin Ott were tied with 42 home runs apiece and Hornsby and Wilson were tied for third honors, each with 39 circuit blows.

Charlie Root led the pitchers with eighteen victories and six defeats for a percentage of .750. Guy Bush, another Chicagoan, was next in line with eighteen and seven for .720, followed by Burleigh Grimes of Pittsburgh with seventeen and seven for .708. Perce Malone of Chicago, the highest winner in the league, was fourth because of his twenty-two victories were balanced somewhat by ten defeats, which brought his average down to .688.

Philadelphia led in team batting with .309, Pittsburgh and Chicago were tied for second place with .303, and New York was fourth with .295.

The Cubs led in team fielding with .975, and the Giants and the Reds shared second place with identical marks of .974.

IN AMERICAN LEAGUE

Chicago, Oct. 5—(AP)—Merely holding his own in the American League batting struggle last week was not sufficient to keep Al Simmons in the lead and Lew Fonseca, Cleveland first baseman, ascended to the peak with an average of .373, according to unofficial figures which include Wednesday's games.

The Cub victory yesterday went to the credit of Charlie Root, who relieved Bob Osborne when the Reds' score in the eighth. It was Root's nineteenth triumph. Eppa Rixey went the route for the Redlegs, but became wild in the tenth just before Stephenson and Tolson reached him for singles. Rogers Hornsby got two hits in two official times at bat, lifting his average two points to .381. He still could nose out Babe Herman for second place, but neither he nor Herman could seriously threaten Frank O'Doul and his mark of .396.

Dutch Henry, the Giant refugee saved from the minors by Charles Comiskey, officiated against the Tigers for the White Hose. He eased up after he gained a good lead.

It is somewhat easier to predict how many sacks of peanuts will be Fletcherized. If the appetite for this roasted delicacy holds up to previous series, nine out of every ten customers will be sitting in a mess of shucks before the game is half over. There is an old Chinese saying

Compare features to learn how much more Oakland gives for its price

Oakland has made it easy for you to compare features. In fact, Oakland has made the comparisons itself, tabulating the results in chart form so that you can see at a glance what you get in the Oakland All-American Six as well as what you get in twenty other cars of medium price.

Before you buy any car within $300 of Oakland's price, be sure to come in and see the complete results of these comparisons. And when you have seen them, we will clinch the proof of Oakland superiority with a demonstration—convincing you beyond any question that this is America's finest medium-priced automobile.

ROCHELLE NEWS

Rochelle—Architect Maxwell, who has just completed the new University of Michigan golf course and is a nationally and internationally known authority, has been employed to lay out the eighteen hole course for the Rochelle Town and Country Club. Work will be started at once.

Ownership shares in the Rochelle Town and Country club, of the par value of $100 each, are being issued as follows: Class A—Stock will carry ownership to the property and will entitle the holder to club house privileges but not to playing privileges. Class B—Stock will entitle holder to a membership in said club with both club and playing privileges subject to annual dues and by laws of said club. Only one share of Class B stock to a person.

Notes to be given for deferred payments. Said notes will not be discounted but may be used as collateral by the club for securing loans. Checks should be made payable to the Rochelle Town & Country Club.

The architect was exceptionally well pleased with the location, richness of the soil and native beauty of the site and the club is exceedingly gratified to have secured his services.

The officers of the club include: W. C. Whitcomb, president; Fred E. Gardner, vice president; E. T. Bercheid, secretary and treasurer. Directors: W. C. Whitcomb; Ralph Brown, Edward Morgan, Fred Gardner, Phil W. May, E. T. Bercheid and R. E. Anderson.

The club will incorporate and $20,000 of Class A and $20,000 of Class B stock will be issued.

The city council is cutting a melon, and the consumers of electricity are to secure a substantial reduction in rates to become effective as of October 1, 1929, also a nice reduction in insurance rates.

This reduction has been made possible by reason of the installation of additional and modern equipment and it is the opinion of the council that patrons should receive the benefit and will, in a great measure, encourage and additional use of electricity. Should increased patronage warrant it a further reduction is anticipated.

The rates which became effective October, 1929, are as follows:

DOMESTIC RATES

First 20 KW @ .11. Next 20 K. W. @ .09. All over 40 K. W. @ .07.

COMMERCIAL RATES

First 50 K. W. @ .11. Next 50 K. W. @ .09. All over 100 K. W. @ .07.

COOKING RATE

Each K. W. @ .04.

RURAL RATE

Each K. W. @ .12.

There will be allowed a discount of 1¢ per K. W. from all of above rates for the prompt payment of bills rendered. The minimum rates to be as follows: Domestic service per month .75. Cooking rates per month $2.50 and rural rate per quarter $3.00.

The city council further wish to inform our property owners of the reduction which has been made in the cost of fire insurance. This reduction has been made possible by the reason of the installing of an

Proof that Oakland is America's finest medium-
priced automobile

The following facts were obtained from a comparison of the Oakland All-American Six with 20 other medium-priced automobiles. All told, 87 individual comparisons were made. Of these Oakland proved to be distinctly superior in 51 or 51.37 per cent. The 20 cars combined were at best equal to Oakland on 382 or 43.56 per cent. And 13 of the 20 were higher-priced than Oakland!

WHEELBASE

Only one car as low-priced as Oakland has a wheelbase as long as Oakland's, which is 117 inches. That car requires a turning circle to the left of 42 feet as compared with Oakland's 36 feet. Six higher-priced cars have shorter wheelbases.

BRAKES

Only Oakland and one other car in its field use the fine type of brakes which Oakland employs. And no car in the field equals Oakland's 290 square inches of brake band area. Oakland's separate emergency brake operates on the transmission. Seven cars in the field have no separate emergency brakes, although three of them exceed Oakland in price.

Prices, $1145 to $1375. f. o. b. Pontiac, Mich., plus delivery charges. Springs, overdrive and Lovejoy Shock Absorbers included in list price. Numerous rear fender guards extra. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

SHOOT TO KILL POLICY FOR DRY
AGENTS POLICY

That's Platform High
Heels Kirby Running
For U. S. Senator

Springfield, Ill. —(UP)— A "shoot to kill" policy for enforcement of the prohibition law is advocated by James H. "High Heels" Kirby, candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator at the Illinois primaries next April, in his platform released here today.

"Without authorizing the enforcement officer to shoot to kill the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead law will indeed be a joke," he says. "Words and persuasion have proven a failure. We are the laughing stock of the nations. The booze baron, the rum runner and the bootlegger mean business and will not do shoot to kill. They do not intend to give up the "fort."

To enforce this law it will be necessary to kill somebody and plenty of 'em. It takes the sword to put down slavery."

Kirby, who earned his name of "High Heels" by introducing a bill in the state legislature some years ago making it illegal for women to wear high heels, declares that in states like Wisconsin and New York "which have nullified the eighteenth amendment" he would declare martial law and place federal soldiers in every community.

He said he is also opposed to granting "freedom of the port" to Congressmen and their right to "frank" campaign literature to constituents.

Kirby, a farmer whose only son was killed in the world war, said what the country needs today is more milk.

"If everybody will quit drinking hooch and go to drinking pure milk the economic condition of the farmers will have been solved," he said.

SCARBORO NEWS

SCARBORO—On Saturday evening about 8:30 o'clock an auto accident occurred at the four corners a mile south of Scarboro and close to the Paul Snyder farm. A car headed south ran off the road into a deep ditch badly damaging the car and injuring one of the occupants, an elderly gentleman by the name of Mr. Larabee. It was reported that there were four men in the car at the time of the accident, but when one of the neighbors who responded to the call for help arrived at the scene of the accident with his team, Mr. Larabee was the only one present. The cause for the accident could not be ascertained. Blinding lights of another car was one rumor advanced. The car was removed to Compton by the Miller wrecking crew of that place.

On their way home from Rochelle at the intersection of the Meridian and the Lincoln Highway H. J. Smith had the misfortune of having his new Chevrolet car run into by another car coming from the north. The accident was due to lack of knowledge of stop sign on the corner. The night was rainy and the roads slippery so that when the man in the car from the north saw what might happen he applied his brakes and veered to the side but could not avoid hitting Mr. Smith's car. Those in Mr. Smith's car at the time of the accident were: Mrs. Smith and daughter, Miss Dorothy Durin, and Miss Helen Grove. Fortunately none were injured. On Sunday they all complained about stiff necks due to being thrown from their seat. Neither cars were badly damaged and an understanding between the two drivers was reached.

About 160 persons enjoyed the chicken supper at the Scarboro church last Thursday evening, and best of all they reported having enjoyed the meal immensely, and wondered how the ladies aid of the church could put on such a fine menu at so small a charge. Well you just let it to the Scarboro women, they are experts in that line. The society wishes to thank all who were present for their patronage and also all who donated to the supper.

Plans are now being laid for the bazaar when the annual supper will be served. Folks are always anxious to know when it will take place. Many inquiries have been made thus far. From all indications a large attendance is expected. More will be said later.
